Description

This annual conference is designed to offer attendees a program where they can acquire specific skills and strategies for their academic advancement. Promoting diversity, mentoring, collaboration, and addressing the goal of having a successful and satisfying work-life experience are also essential aspects of the conference.

Educational Objectives

At the conclusion of this conference, participants should be able to:

- Discuss how changing societal trends are affecting the academic environment for scientists, physicians, and their trainees.
- Implement strategies for fostering an educational and work climate that supports faculty and student achievement regardless of gender.
- Employ practical techniques to advance their scholarly work, accelerate the impact of their professional efforts, and advocate for themselves and others.

Accreditation

The Warren Alpert Medical School of Brown University is accredited by the Accreditation Council of Continuing Medical Education (ACCME) to provide continuing medical education for physicians.

Directions/Parking/Shuttle Service

The Alpert Medical School building is located at 222 Richmond Street. Follow this link for directions

Parking: A limited number of “parking passes” will be available for our conference participants to be used in the garage next door to 222 Richmond Street. Additional details will be e-mailed to all conference registrants. Parking is available, in Lot 30, located at the corner of Richmond and Elm Streets, for faculty actively engaged in direct instruction of students or have a significant administrative role such as course director. A hang tag is required. Metered street parking is also available. Finally, the Brown Daytime Shuttle is another option available for faculty and staff with a Brown ID. ID must be shown before boarding the van. Please do not park in the surface lots directly across the street from the medical school’s main entrance.

Follow this link for more parking and shuttle information

To request reasonable accommodations for a disability, please notify the Office of Women in Medicine and Science at least two weeks prior to the conference.

PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT WORKSHOP SESSIONS

Please indicate your 1st and 2nd choices for Breakout Sessions I & II at the registration site.

Breakout Session I:

Charting a Course for Your “Third Chapter” - Experience, Wisdom, Aging and Untapped Resources

Elizabeth Toll, M.D.

Workshop attendees will discuss themes that emerge among women physicians and scientists planning for their later professional and personal lives and begin planning a peer mentoring group for the 2019-2020 academic year.

Healthcare Finance 101

Colleen Ramos, MBA

Don’t know the difference between charges and payments? Can’t read a profit and loss statement? Improve your healthcare-related financial literacy in this workshop led by an experienced industry leader.

Take Advantage of Your Home Port: Resources @ Brown

Alison Buckser, MPH Jean Rainwater
Vinald Francis Gabrielle Stranieri
Julie Plaut, Ph.D.

In this workshop, representatives from Advance CTR, Foundation Relations, Communications, the Swearer Center, and Brown Vivo will describe valuable academic resources available to members of the Brown community.

Breakout Session II:

Expanding Your Academic Impact Through Social Media

A. Rani Elwy, Ph.D.

Whether you are an active Tweeter or a social media neophyte, this workshop will expand your knowledge of social media use in your scholarly activities and examine these methods of communication in the context of implementation and dissemination science.

How to Make a Podcast

Julie Roth, M.D.

In this session, attendees will learn the practical aspects of starting an academic podcast and gain an appreciation for how the use of digital audio in medical education can extend the reach of busy teachers, scientists, and clinicians.

Worth It! A Practical Approach to Negotiation and Self-Representation

K. Carey Baker, M.Ed.

Your next negotiation will be less intimidating after learning key skills for self-representation and self-presentation and examining the steps for planning, implementing, and assessing successful negotiations.
